LAWRENCEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

Lawrenceville High School was founded in 1906. In 1912, with Mr. George D. Rowe as principal, the school became an accredited high school. Under the guidance of many principals the school has progressed rapidly. During the sixteen years of Mr. R. J. Jones' administration, the curriculum and the extra-curricula activities have been broadened.

MISS CLAUDINE O'BRIEN

DEDICATION

Our Senior sponsors, Miss Claudine O'Brien and Miss Mary Jane Powell, have shown unbounded interest in the activities of our school as well as our class—no criticism is justified, no praise is adequate. To them, we therefore dedicate this volume of the "Sentinel" in an attempt to honor them.

FOREWORD

The inspiring help of our teachers, the sound of our laughter, the bustle of our working hours, the rush of our changing classes, the exciting thrill of our many sports—if this book gives an idea of these things, then we, turning its pages in the long years to come, may have the old happy memories of high school days come floating back to us, causing us to live again the happy hours spent at Lawrenceville High.

CLASS HISTORY

'43 '47

The history of a high school class is unique. One hardly recognizes it as history. We simply work and play together for four years. Ours is not a narrative of great achievement, but of preparation and development.

The one hundred six of us who responded to the roll call in the fall of 1943 were not a particularly distinctive Freshman Class. Our fellow members were assembled from the four corners of Brunswick County, all of us fresh from primary schools—our chief asset a capacity for work and play, and a willingness to be guided by our superiors. The first days were confusing, but it did not take us long to feel at home. The year passed almost before we realized it. We had accomplished much; root subjects were mastered; new and lasting friendships had been formed. At the close of this year we felt such love and esteem for our school that we wanted to present to it a gift. Since the school had no moving picture projector we decided that that would be a suitable gift.

Having completed our first year of high school, we entered our sophomore year. There were some vacancies in our rank, but these were soon filled by other aspirants as eager to begin this colorful period as we had been the previous year. It was at this time that some of the Ebony pupils entered our class. This proved to be a great addition as three of our annual staff members are among this group. Again, much was learned; we advanced in scholastic standards and fixed our eyes upon loftier heights and worked diligently to merit the advancement that would in due time come to us. In a short time, it seemed, another year ran its course. Finding the first two years of our high school happy and eventful ones, we entered our Junior year, determined to increase our enjoyment. We followed the custom of entertaining the Seniors with a reception. The Glee Club was organized during this year, and a chance was given some of us to display our voices. We anxiously awaited the choosing of the new members of the Beta and Hi-Y Clubs, and many of us were chosen members. This year brought increased responsibilities, and more difficult assignments. These were borne with such patience as we could muster and with modest credit; for just before us loomed the goal of our high school ambitions; tremendous, impressive, silhouetted against the morning sun. But our preparation had been faultless; we were ready.

Then we reached up to accept it, it seemed to step down and greet us—this year of years—this hallowed experience in every student's life—the Senior Year! Now there were only sixty-one of us, nine of whom were veterans of World War II. Feeling somewhat superior but yet a little afraid, we began the end. This year the annual, the Sentinel, which had not been published for four years, made its appearance once more. The school paper, the Bow-Wow, edited by Ben Powell, was added to the activities and enjoyment of the students. As we mimeographed the paper ourselves, we had much fun along with the work. Also several new clubs were organized. Another old custom was followed, the Seniors presented a play, "Don't Keep Him Waiting," directed by our sponsors, Misses Powell and O'Brien, with Pattie Ann Lambert as student director. In the play Jeff, Bill Moseley, surprised Jinny, Gill Temple, by kissing her. Toodles, Margaret Ann Hawkins, had an awful time trying to reduce but she finally got her man, Chester, who was Ozzie James.

Three years of hard work and spirited play have been utilized not so much in establishing records, but in studied preparation for the ultimate fulfillment of specific obligations to society and for the ever increasing responsibility of citizenship. Now the time for trifles and dreams is over. Now Seniors, let us challenge ourselves that our history be not a thing of the past, but a vital drama of the future, and let us help make this world a better place in which to live.

The highest scorer of the season this year was Epperson with 94 points, Jones next with 52 points, and Browder with 24 points. Epperson, Browder, and Wesson are seniors this year and it will be a big loss to the team when they graduate. Of the nine games played we won four, tied two, and lost three. Misses Jacque Costen and Claudine O'Brien acted as coaches and Jane Gregg as hostess.

INSIDE INFORMATION

(OR KLUB KOMMENTS)

As some explanation is needed for you to understand the purposes of our activities, we tried to get W. W. himself to comment on them. But due to some unforeseen incident this was impossible, so Junior will have to suffice—Read on, Macduff!

The Future Farmers of America trains boys to farm better . . . They should be an improvement over the old farmer who was a witness in a railroad case . . . Sez he, "Wal, me'n Jake wuz walkin' down the track, and I hyeerd a whistle and got off the track, and the train went by . . . Then I got back on the track, but I didn't see Jake. I walked on, and pretty soon I seen Jake's hat, and then I seen one of Jake's laigs, and then I seen Jake's head over on one side, and I sez to m'self, 'By cracky! Sumpin' musts happened to Jake!'"

The future Housewives of America learn how to run a home and manage their husbands . . . Some of them already have F.F.A. boys wound around their little finger. . . .

The Beta Club members are arranged to form a "B" in their picture . . . Ah, distinctly I remember, it was in the bleak December when the picture was made, and it took the members three hours to thaw out . . . Spake them all then, Nevermore . . . Excuse me, Edgar. . . .

The boy's Hi-Y and the girl's Tri-Hi-Y have been going strong lately . . . The girl's group used to be flat broke, but they struck it rich one night selling eats at a football game . . . At the next meeting they had a big table just groaning with refreshments . . . The boys stood at the door with bulging eyes and drooled. . . .

What with new clubs and all, there has been an oversupply of initiations this fall . . . For days pupils crawled around praising Allah, and looking like circus clowns who had tried and couldn't. . . .

The Commercial Club is one of those new ones . . . It helps future secretaries learn essential points for getting ahead in their careers . . . i.e., Correct Position on Boss's Knee, Typical Techniques in Tackling for Typists, Be Boss's Wife in Ten Weeks or Less, etc. . . .

The Library Club is supposedly composed of bookworms, but some of the members still just look at the pictures and welsh on book reports . . . Never mind, they get their pitchers in the annual.

The Latin Club, some say, is to take the dead language out of the grave, and bring it back to life, but the way the members carry on, at times, the language will always be a walking zombie. . . .

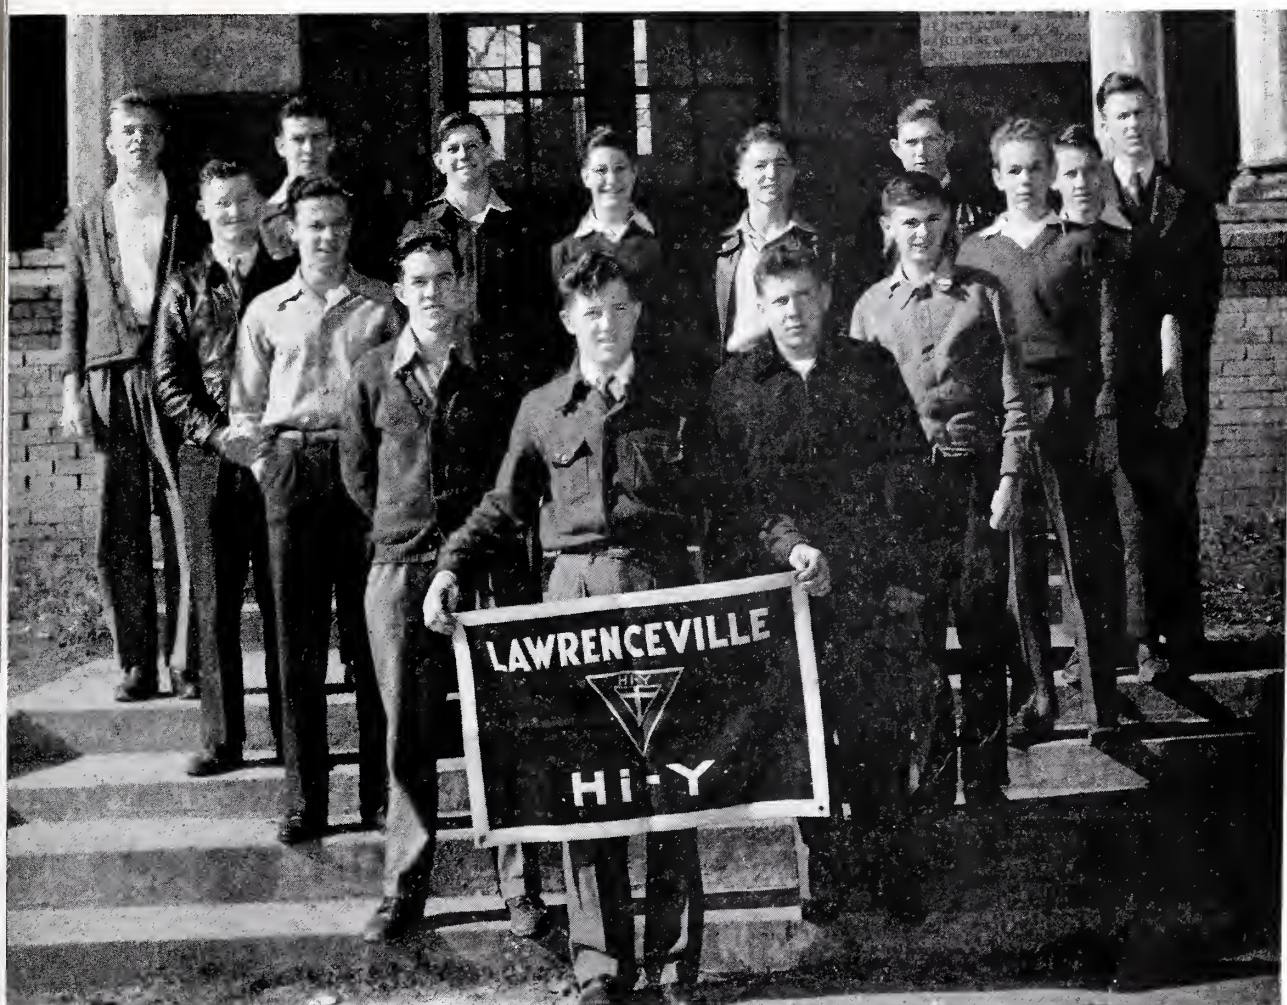

We used to have a Glee Club that did very well, but its fate was like of the following chicken . . .

There was an old lady of Wooster
Who was often annoyed by a rooster
She cut off his head
Until he was dead
And now he don't crow like he useter.

This year for the first time since 1942, the Bow-Wow has been published. The purpose of this publication is to create and promote throughout the student body a sense of unity, a higher degree of school spirit, and a desire to better the school through exchanging the ideals and principles of the students.

SENIOR CLASS

CAST

Jeff Ramble, who is a camera fan . . . . . BILL MOSELEY
 Toodles, his younger sister. . . . . MARGARET HAWKINS
 Betty, his older sister. . . . . MARTHA WESSON
 Owen, his father . . . . . BEN POWELL
 Selina, his aunt . . . . . CHRISTINE LUCY
 Jinny, who is a good little pal . . . . . GILL TEMPLE

Chester, who is allergic to work . . . . . "OZZIE" JAMES
 Sally Lou, who fascinates . . . . . JANE GREGG
 Minvera, who giggles . . . . . ELOISE BROWDER
 David Vance, who is tired of waiting . . . . . DYKIE PEEBLES
 Amos Atkins, who is interested in antiques . WILBUR HARRISON
 O'Toole, who wants his money . . . . . OSCAR CUMBIA

The play was built around the goings of the happy-go-lucky Ramble family. The cast was composed mostly of loose nuts (not crazy, exactly, but loose anyway). None of the Rambles except Betty, the older sister, was capable of earning or saving money; much less spending it sensibly, and the plot was further entangled by several frustrated romances.

However, after some well planned moves by the more serious members of the cast, and some unexpected moves by the frivolous characters, everything came out beautifully, with extra bounties thrown in. The right girls got the right men, the jobless got jobs, and wonder of wonders, the rattle-brained characters acquired a little sense!
